Greetings Brothers and Sisters.
Spring is finally here (Well sort of). Spring ushers in New life. New growth. The change of Seasons also reminds us that change is inevitable. I would like to remind all of our members that this coming Fall is the expiration of the Big 3 Contracts. For most of our units the outcome of the upcoming negotiations could have a major impact on the landscape of our Local and its membership. Keeping in mind that as a result of the negotiations a Strike and/or lockout is always a possibility. Other area UAW Locals that may be impacted are in the process of communicating with the membership that being prepared is key. Some of our Local 724 members may be impacted so it is worth developing a plan now. On the Local front we recently had elections for 2 Executive Board positions. Congratulations to our new Trustee Dustin Edgington and Sue Wohlscheid, our new Guide. I look forward to working with both of you on our Executive Board. On a sad note the Local Lost a True Trade Unionist on April 2, 2019. Ron Dean was a long time Member of UAW Local 724 with more than 30 years of service. Ron started his Union membership at Lindell Drop Forge and ended at Dakkota Integration Systems. Ron held many titles at both facilities including Shop Chairperson. Ron was a true UAW member who dedicated his life to being not only a true UAW Leader but a member of his community as well .He loved to help people. Ron will be missed dearly by all who knew him.

I’ll end with a quote by our UAW Region 1D Director Gerald Kariem “If service is beneath you then leadership is beyond you”
I hope everyone had a good Spring holiday. Our Chaplain, Isabel Baker, has now become Ordained making it easier to assist in hospitals, jail or assisted living. She is doing a great job and can help anyone in need of her services. It is also time to start putting in your Local Demands. Forms can be found in the Work Center and also turned in there. The deadline for accepting demands is May 31st.

A holiday coming up soon is May Day. May Day is celebrated May 1st and is considered International Workers Day, and to some Americans, considered the true Labor Day.

In the United States, May 1st commemorates the Haymarket Riot (or Massacre). During the Industrial Revolution, many workers (men, women and children) were suffering. Fourteen-hour days, poor conditions, low wages, and death on the job topped the laborers’ outrage. The AFL proclaimed eight hours constituted a legal day’s labor, and a fight for better conditions, including an eight-hour day, ensued. Labor organizations encouraged workers to strike and demonstrate.

On May 1, 1886, more than 300,000 workers - 40,000 in Chicago alone - walked off of their jobs. More workers joined in the following days. Overall, the protests were peaceful, but on May 3, police and workers clashed. On May 4, a rally at the Haymarket Square was held to protest the killing and wounding of several workers by the police. A bomb was thrown toward the end of the rally, killing seven police officers, eight civilians and wounding many more. Despite there being no solid evidence against anyone, eight men labeled anarchists, were convicted of the killings in a sensational and controversial trial. A jury that was considered to be connected to Big Business saw that four of the defendants were hanged.

In order to downplay the history of powerful labor demonstrations and the cause for workers’ rights, two presidents (Grover Cleveland and Dwight Eisenhower) have redefined Labor Day as the first Monday in September. But it is our duty not to forget the Haymarket Massacre, and the many rights workers have won due to organization and solidarity. Please wear red to show solidarity on May 1st to honor the sacrifices of the many workers who helped you receive the benefits you get.

Another holiday to mention is Memorial Day (May 17, 2019), honoring the men and women who died in order to give us the freedoms we have. Whether you visit a parade, a gravesite or veteran family members, please show support for the great sacrifices given and always thank anyone who served. Please look at your UAW Information Boards for events and Information that you may want to participate in or would find helpful.

Solidarity within the UAW is the coming together of a diverse group of people with common interests, but different perspectives, to develop a common vision and the framework for change. There are many more similarities in the challenges we face than there are differences as we come together as people with the same basic needs and desires. The newspapers inundate us with the changing of times as an abundance of challenges touch every area of our lives. I cannot stress enough the importance of standing together with our UAW sisters and brothers during these uncertain times.

As we approach upcoming negotiations with a company that has stripped away jobs in the United States and placed their investments in Mexico, we must be mindful of the uncertainty of our future. Furthermore, General Motors has been pushing the boundaries of outsourcing, using a large temporary workforce and forcing maximum overtime in order to obtain record profits. For this reason we must be united in our message and solid in its implementation. The theme for this year’s Bargaining Convention was “We Are One”, and it is my hope that we can all stand together in Solidarity in our fight to gain a fair and equitable contract for ALL of our UAW sisters and brothers.

In Solidarity

Teamwork!

Today, let us talk about teams. I am guessing you whether or not you appreciate sports, you’ve been on a team before. I would also assume that if you have been on a team, you wanted your team to achieve its highest potential. I have rarely interacted with anyone who could tell me that when participating in a team or group event that they took heart in, they were indifferent of the outcome. Most people want to win, achieve, conquer - whatever the objective, they want to get to the top. In my experiences, which as I get older, have become many, the best results have come by way of coming together as a single focused unit. These situations don’t just revolve around sports, for which, this is definitely true, but also during my time building and remodeling homes, our crew came together to build the best we could build. During my decade-plus coaching of youth sports, my undefeated and championship teams had great singular players sure, but they couldn’t do it all alone, it was about coming together to achieve success. During my time as a Team Leader, my team, who was full of very different personalities, routinely came together to outperform the other Teams in our Department and often times, the entire Trim shop. I could go on and on but that would delay the point. None of the instances came because there was no recognition, reward or purpose, these achievements had come to fruition due to there being a passionate reason behind all of them coupled with each group’s desire to achieve. As a builder, our crew knew providing the best product would garner us more work, more work equals better job security in a very open market. I’ve been blessed to coach many championship teams in Baseball, Football, and Basketball, with each one of my sons being vital contributors. That said, even my children wanted the team to achieve greatness more than just being the only one who pitched, ran the ball or scored the most. Being a Team Leader for a team that wanted to be the best made it easy to serve them. Experiences like these are what makes it so difficult for me to see how separated we are as union members. I am guessing that if you all look inward and try to recall some experiences in your own lives such as I have done here for you, you would all find instances similar in nature but unique to your own lives when coming together was the way to win. We need to come together as a team and not allow anything to deter us from what our main goal is as Union Members, which is to get our fair share and have our seat at the table. The old adage “together we win, divided we beg” rings true. When those on top distract us by using such simple strategies as jealousy, phobias, religion, and politics, we’ve seen we fail. One thing we must remember, or for some, become aware of is that, we are the majority; they are the minority,. Once we put aside our personal differences and realize professionally we must be a collective, all the while respecting our unique points of view personally, we can achieve greatness for our families and ourselves. As we move closer to this fall, I hope we all can come to this resolve. Solidarity Brothers and Sisters!

"Plan A is suspended again!" "We just got it back and now we have another mechanical breakdown of more than four hours." "How many units do we have to make up this time?" "I’m so sick of working ten hours." "If we had enough skilled trades people we could do proper maintenance and not just band-aid everything as we put out fire after fire." "Heck, on the days the temps aren’t here all of the team leaders are on the line, and we can’t even get an emergency bathroom break." "Yeah, Joe is on sick leave again, and so-and-so used another FMLA day!" "We’re always short on help, and it’s not even vacation season yet!"

Sound familiar? Every GM manufacturing employee has either said it or heard it. Manpower shortages plague all assembly plants and shop chairmen in North America. Ever since the bankruptcy it seems to be the normal mode of operation. The company has returned to profitability, but they’re running like there’s no tomorrow. After receiving bailouts, givebacks and tax breaks, they are abusing the use of temporary employees rather than being job creators. By shedding all their excess capacity, GM learned to build more with less, and they found it more efficient to run the remaining plants at full volume. When we had three good selling products, for the first time in our long history, we were putting cars out the door 24 hours a day. The three-shift operation meant even though demand was high enough to warrant the maximum number of Saturdays to be scheduled, each shift could work no more than 8 hours a day. When the Acadia went to Spring Hill we went down to two shifts, but we still have enough demand from the other two to require, at times, 20 hours a day and 2 out of 3 Saturdays. This was never meant to go on for a prolonged period, but it has. All plants have been taxing their workforce and are experiencing the same problems with sick leaves, FMLA, absenteeism and manpower shortages. Manpower is one of the key issues in upcoming contract negotiations. Along with health care, temporary employees and product allocation. Even though we’re tired of the overtime, this may be a good problem to have. The state of transportation is soon to see a transformation. Not only in the way we build cars but the types of cars we build.

Leaps in technology, computer capability and 3D printing have allowed new tasks to be automated. The highly regarded McKinsey report, which follows trends in industry, warns of massive job losses due to automation. It states that half of all jobs can be automated, and in 50 years they will be. 38% of all US jobs are at high risk of being automated in the next fifteen years. Here’s what new technology means to future jobs. For every ten manufacturing jobs we will have in the future, seven are not yet developed. Another way to look at this is that 65% of children currently in grade school will work in jobs that don’t yet exist.

At the same time, we are experiencing a change in mobility, or the way people get around. Uber, Lyft, scooters, ride sharing and autonomous shuttles present challenges to car manufacturers. After only token efforts to produce Electric Vehicles (EVs) now made a commitment to bring 20

Hello Brothers and Sisters!
The Community Service Activist Training Classes have concluded. The following wealth of information is offered to help you increase your knowledge and take advantage of the resources available in our community.

Weekend Survival Kits

A wonderful program which helps fight hunger for 3,900 kids during the weekend by providing children (core program - grades K-5) with food packs for the weekend. It targets children who qualify for reduced price breakfast or lunch programs. The packs are assembled by volunteer groups from our communities and stored by volunteer groups. Next, the packs (kits) are transported by volunteers to various schools twice a month. Distribution to the children is via school teachers and administrators who have knowledge of children’s needs and those who qualify for the program. (Summertime programs are also available.)

Business organizations, churches, individuals, schools, Greater Lansing Food Bank, Delta Dental, Jackson National Life, etc., have worked together to make this program a success to help feed hungry kids.

There is also a Weekday Snack Program which helps provide snacks to bolster the academic success rate of children. For more information to volunteer or support either of these programs, contact Traci@weekendsurvivalkits.org.

Foster Parents Needed

Child and Family Charities is in need of volunteers to help children in crisis. There are currently six divisions that total 20 programs serving over 7,000 abused, and at-risk children, youth and families. Example: Child Welfare, Child Abuse Prevention Services, Gateway Youth Services, Angel House, Behavioral Health Services.

Did you know that 99% of pregnant teens that go to Angel House in Mason are victims of sexual abuse? Child and Family Charities is searching for individuals who will open up their home and their hearts to volunteer in any of their programs or become a Foster Parent.

Community Mental Health

“Persons with mental health needs include those with a mental illness, an emotional disturbance, a developmental disability, and/or a substance use disorder” can find a wide range of resources at this organization.

This agency saw over 300 patients per month in 2018 versus patients going to an Emergency Room. The opioid crisis is believed to be the cause of the uptick in the number of patients being seen.

For more information: call Central Access at 1-888-800-1559 (24hrs a day?days a week) or Local 517-346-8318. You will be asked screening questions to determine if you meet service criteria.

UAW Local 602 Veterans Committee

Personal Hygiene products and new shoe collection for homeless Veterans. Now until May 15. Boxes will be all LDT entrances and at the Local 602 Hall. Items needed include: soap, shampoo, toothpaste, toothbrushes, deodorant, feminine hygiene products, shaving cream, razors, and sock, shoes/boots, undergarments for men and women. Healthy snacks and any other practical needs item. When possible, try to get the travel size.
This summer, introduce your family to a once-in-a-lifetime experience! The Black Lake 2019 Family Scholarship Program!

For more than 40 years, Black Lake has been a place where UAW members and their families come together for an experience that combines education with relaxation. It’s a place to learn about your union, unlock ideas and build new friendships with other working families throughout the United States. A one-week summer experience that will leave you and your family filled with a spirit guaranteed to strengthen your understanding and appreciation for your union.

The UAW pays all lodging, food and program costs for the entire one-week session. The scholarship does not cover costs for group photographs or other personal spending. Expenses for meals, tolls or other costs incurred during travel to and from the Center are also not covered.

All active or laid off UAW members in good standing are eligible to apply for a Family Scholarship if you have never attended the program before. You must also be willing to use your regular vacation, personal leave or union leave time (where permitted by contract) to attend. Past participants are not eligible to reapply. Your spouse and children/grandchildren 4-18 years old may attend with you.

The housing arrangements at the Family Education Center consists of a main hotel and adjacent buildings with sleeping rooms and full bathroom and shower facilities. Soap, towels and all bedding is provided. Children are housed with their parents/grandparents. To maintain a family atmosphere, irresponsible behavior is not tolerated and may result in a family being asked to leave at their own expense.

The entire family must participate in all scheduled programs from 8:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. The UAW member and spouse attend classes together while children/grandchildren participate in their own program which features age-appropriate learning and typical camp activities. A family activity is held after dinner most evenings and families are free to stroll on the beach, take a dip in the Center’s indoor pool or talk about the day. Explore the Center campus and nearby attractions, including the Black Lake Golf Course, Mackinaw City, St. Ignace, and Mackinac Island. On Thursday evening of your session, an adults-only activity is planned while children participate in their own program in a supervised setting from 7 to 11 p.m.

The children’s program is designed with the children’s age and grade they are entering in the fall to ensure age-appropriate lessons and recreational activities. Instructors are experienced union members who have been trained to work with children. All children will be required to sign a Code of Conduct form with their parent or guardian to emphasize responsible behavior while at the Center.

Please visit https://uaw.org/2019-family-scholarship/ or call your Local Union for more information.

(Don’t forget, only North American/Union-Made vehicles are allowed to park on the Center grounds and must have a Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) beginning with 1, 2, 4 or 5. If your vehicle is not North American/Union-Made, you will be directed to park in a lot located adjacent to the Center’s front gate and a Center bus will transport you to the hotel registration desk.)

The Oxford dictionary defines post-truth as “relating to or denoting circumstances in which objective facts are less influential in shaping public opinion than appeals to emotion and personal belief.” There are many experts that believe we live in a post-truth world. Where statements are either believed or disbelieved not on their own factualness but instead through a lens of personally held ideas. The saddest part about this is that never in all human history has more information, evidence, or truth been available to human kind. Not too long ago “fact checkers” were a special breed of people who worked mainly at newspapers and in other media industries. But, now we can all be fact checkers. And we all need to be.

A perfect example of post-truth politics was President Trump blaming the closing of the Lordstown GM facility on Union dues. What? Even someone who had no knowledge of how Unions work could have figured out that Union dues are paid by employees not corporations and couldn’t possibly affect the profitability of a jobsite. Not only that, but plants that are still running within GM have the exact same dues structure. But, there were certainly people who took the President’s statement as truth. I would like to believe that President Trump knows that his statement is illogical in the extreme, but if he does know how can it not be seen as a lie? How do these kinds of statements, clearly false, not raise more of a public outcry? Fact checking fatigue maybe?

I remember many years ago talking to a basketball coach who always applied a full-court press defense, I asked him whether he had an issue with kids getting in foul trouble, he said not normally because the refs would get tired of calling fouls on every play. I fear that is where we are at as a country, the constant barrage of falsities that we are faced with has reached a tipping point where both the media and the citizens are just tired of calling fouls. We in the Labor movement cannot fall victim to that. We must strive to overcome the untruths that our opponents, whether the corporations we work for, or anti-worker politicians, put forth against us every day and take solace in fighting the good fight. We can only fight untruth with truth and “alternative facts” with actual facts. And if you see a foul, call it a foul.

The Black Lake 2019 Family Scholarship Program is open to UAW members and their families (who are 18 years and older). UAW members/grandparents who have never attended the program before are eligible to reapply. Your spouse and children/grandchildren 4-18 years old may attend with you.

The annual Community Service classes finished up at the end of March. With 46 folks registered from eight different unions it was a pleasure to have the wide variety participate. We were able to expose the attendees to some programs that may not be on their radar. We have already received suggestions for the 2020 sessions.

The annual National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC) one-day food drive is May 11th. Volunteers are needed to pick-up and sort food at many locations throughout the area. Please use the attached link for the Greater Lansing Food Bank for volunteer registration. Your help is needed to fill the pantry!

http://greaterlansingfoodbank.volunteerlocal.com/volunteer/

Thus far in the season the area Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA) program has helped more than 1600 households and provided close to $3 million in refunds to the community. Appointments for getting taxes done for free are available by scheduling an appointment by calling 2-1-1 to see if you qualify, but time is drawing near to file your taxes.

The Mystic Lake Union Camp Committee (UCC) is accepting donations and applications for the 2019 camping season. Please contact Dean for additional details. If you are interested in helping get the camp ready for the camping season, they will be conducting “Work or Shirk” clean up weekend on May 10-12 at the camp. If you are interested please call the camp at 517-827-9650 or register online at mysticlakecamp.com

As we may face some amount of uncertainty in 2019 in some cases we are reminded of a quote by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

“The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.”

We are hopeful that winter is finally out of its system and we can enjoy some decent weather. March rolled in as a lion and sort of left as a lion. As crazy as it sounds, the sound of lawn mowers is welcome in our neighborhoods.

Greetings Sisters and Brothers

Were you at the trend setting lunch in March? The World Buffet and Grill seems to win by a mile Everyone liked it, we all picked what we liked, when we liked it. What a variety, they had- sushi a Mongolian grill, regular fare and oriental. This lunch the E Board got something they liked, no when we liked it. What a variety, they had- sushi a Mongolian grill, regular fare and oriental. This lunch the E Board got something they liked, no. This is the agenda they came up with.

Thursday, May 9th will be 12:15 at World Buffet and Grill. Thursday June 13th is our summer picnic at our Hall. Everyone can bring a dish to pass, but if you want to win a prize this is the time to shine. Join our homemade dessert contest. We give away prizes for 1st 2nd and 3rd places. Though passed practices shows all entries are eaten. Volunteer for Judging and eat dessert first. That one way to get out of grilling with the boys. Remember we cook a lot of dogs and burgers! Thursday July 11th will be at 12:15 at World Buffet and Grill. Tuesday August 13th noon is our luncheon at Royal Scot. This is a sit down dinner with all Lansing area UAW Retirees invited. You could win a door prize just for showing up and having a nice dinner. Thursday September 12th back at our hall for a pot luck dinner bring a dish to pass if you are. Sounds like a fun and busy summer. Remember next meeting Thursday May 9th World Buffet 12:15 hope to see you there!
Why Buy the Golden Passbook to Michigan Golf?

A premier discount book that offers 2 or 4 free green’s fees per course; this is not a 2 for 1. The Golden and Platinum Passbooks is the only discount type golf book in the State of Michigan that directly funds the promotion, education and advocacy for the industry’s owners and operators. This is the 16th year for the Passbook from the Michigan Golf Course Association.

Once you purchase your Passbook, you don’t pay any more for greens fees for at least a twosome and in some cases a foursome.

The Passbooks comes in 3 sections: Golden Passbook in East, North and West Passbook. You get free golf to over 85 golf courses throughout the State of Michigan. For any of you who ever wanted to be a member of a club where you get free golf, these Passbooks will fill that need for only a fraction of the cost. You can take your spouse or a buddy and play these courses for a minimal cart fee, or in some cases no cart fee at all. We only sell 150 of these Passbooks to the public, so hurry and get yours.
